DESIRED TIME

ALLOCATION

How do you free up time to be more strategic?

Simple automation.

Pro Tip: It's not about automating everything – just the right things. Use Excel to itemize your tasks instead of using it for your reporting.

Rank order all of your routine, time-consuming tasks in Excel. Put expected outcomes for each task to help you organize your list.

- Identify your top 1-3 tasks and consider automating one or more of them to free up your time.

Metric #1

Costs

Cutting costs and tracking expenses can only go so far. Take actions that will make a positive organizational impact.

Is Sales projecting to miss a number? Are you seeing payment delays? Declining Net Promoter Score? High turnover? Compare performance across any business driver and proactively propose a course of action.

it makes sense to offer static or dynamic pricing based on seasonal demands and/or competitive pressures. TOO MANY OFFERINGS OR SERVICES?

Simplify them. Look to minimize costs through ROI analysis. For example, when one company simplified its offerings, the streamlined list had customers ordering more!

Expand your impact by helping solve problems (not simply calling them out) across the organization.

SILOED DEPARTMENTS? Get extended teams talking. Identify gaps and opportunities -backed by detailed comparisons for specific departments (e.g., investment types, costs by department, profitability by funds...etc...) -- share results, and identify next steps, together.

LOSING OPPORTUNITIES? Evaluate your pricing model with your fellow team leads. Assess if
